

Polycentricity Webinar Series

This Polycentricity Webinar Series aims to introduce and discuss key concepts in the field of polycentric governance, as well as to address current applications and future research directions. In this series, we aim to facilitate the dialogue between early career researchers, senior researchers, and practitioners who are interested in learning, better understanding, and debating foundational and new ideas in polycentric governance.

Dates:

21 January 2021: Understanding and theorizing polycentric governance

William Blomquist & Andreas Thiel

Moderator yet to be confirmed

04 February 2021: Interactions and performance in polycentric governance

Tomas M. Koontz & Sergio Villamayor-Tomás

Moderated by Elke Kellner

18 February 2021: Practicing polycentric governance

Bryan Bruns

Moderated by Nora Schütze

04 March 2021: Future research directions in polycentric governance – Roundtable Discussion

Elizabeth Baldwin, Dustin Garrick, Rebecca Gruby,
Mark Lubell, Michael McGinnis and Harini Nagendra

Moderated by Arvind Lakshmisha

Time: 17:00 – 18:00 CET (UCT +1)

Speakers for the first three webinars

William Blomquist is Professor of Political Science and Adjunct Professor of Public and Environmental Affairs at Indiana University Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI), and a Senior Research Fellow of the IU Ostrom Workshop.

Andreas Thiel is Chair of International Agricultural Policy and Environmental Governance at the Faculty of Organic Agricultural Sciences, University of Kassel, Germany. He is affiliated faculty of the Vincent and Elinor Ostrom Workshop in Political Theory and Policy Analysis and recently, he was Senior Research Fellow of the Käte Hamburger Kolleg for Global Cooperation Research at University of Duisburg-Essen, Germany.

Tom Koontz is Professor of Environmental Policy at the University of Washington, Tacoma (USA). He is affiliated faculty of the Vincent and Elinor Ostrom Workshop in Political Theory and Policy Analysis. His research on collaboration and environmental governance has included cases in Germany, India, Ohio (USA), and most recently the Puget Sound (USA). .

Sergio Villamayor-Tomas is currently Ramon y Cajal Research Fellow at the Institute of Environmental Science and Technology (ICTA-UAB), at the Autonomous University of Barcelona. He is also affiliated with the Ostrom's Workshop (Indiana University) and the Berlin Workshop in Institutional Analysis of Socio-Ecological Systems (WINS).

Bryan Bruns is an independent researcher and consultant with a particular interest in water governance, cooperation, and transforming social situations. He holds a Ph.D. in Sociology of Development from Cornell University (1991).

Please register at <https://polycentricity.iasc-commons.org/index.php/policentricity-webinar-series/>

For more details visit: <https://polycentricity.iasc-commons.org/>

In case of any queries contact us @ polycentricity_network@uni-kassel.de