

3 December 2019

Institutional change and work in Cuba: Work and workers in the institutional narrative of the transformation of the economic and social model

Prof. Dr. Osnaide Izquierdo (University of Havana)

All ICDD members and all interested persons are welcome!

Time: Tuesday: 8:15 – 9:45 (please use the buffet from 8:15-8:30 mainly)

Venue:

Kassel: ICDD, Kleine Rosenstr. 3 (5th floor), seminar room

Witzenhausen: Steinstr. 19, H12

Good food for thought, and stomach!

Guest scientists and members of the International Center for Development and Decent Work (ICDD) present and discuss current research or themes of special interest. In addition, participants are invited to a little breakfast buffet with tea, coffee, bread, cheese, jam, fruits etc.

About Osnaide Izquierdo Quintana:

He is a Doctor in Sociology from the University of Havana, Director of the Department of Sociology of the University of Havana, and Professor of Methodology, Labor and Economic Sociology.

His development as a researcher addresses issues related to work and the economy.

Among his recent productions, his participation in the authorship and compilation of Decent Work and Society. Cuba from the perspective of socio-labor studies (2017) and Sociology of Labor (2018)