
English Taught Courses - Summer term („Sommersemester“) 2025

Some general information: Semester Wochen Stunden

- At the University of Kassel, exchange students are welcome to choose courses outside their faculty
- In addition to courses taught in English, there are also courses taught in German that are supplemented with materials in English
- In many cases, it is possible to take exams in English, even if the course is conducted in German
- Bachelor students may enroll in Master-level courses, provided they obtain prior approval from the respective course lecturer
- ECTS Credits (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System): The allocation of ECTS credits may vary depending on the course and the type of assessment (e.g., essay, presentation, exam, etc.). For specific details regarding ECTS credits, please refer to the examination regulations (Prüfungsordnung) of the respective program, consult the course lecturer, the examination office (Prüfungsamt) of the relevant faculty
- Semester Weekly Hours (SWS) represent the number of hours per week a student is expected to attend a specific course during a semester. For example, a course with 2 SWS typically requires 2 hours of attendance per week. This helps students plan their workload and understand the time commitment for each course
